

The Impending Anniversary

Oi oi oi babe babe! Okay so. As you know, it's me and Jai's 3rd anniversary in like freaking 5 days. Okay! Okay! So as you can tell, I'm obviously...losing my mind! I mean what do I get this man? I need to get him that one amazing gift that is better than everything else I have gotten him before!

Okay so, let's think. How can I make this gift the best one yet? And more importantly it's got to be better than whatever he gets me.

Okay so first year, I thought let's make it cute and simple you know? So I made him a little collage, with a cute little frame with our names engraved on it. So cute right? Wrong. So wrong. This boy brought me to the Projector and I thought. Ooo... so romantic, so cute. I hope we watch a horror movie so I can pretend to be scared and have him hold me. Then, I realised the whole cinema empty. And it started playing a film about us. He wrote poetry lah, He did narration lah! Wah really damn sweet. Then it had like Insta Stories of us on dates and at the end. Oh My God! At the end he got Benjamin Kheng the Sam Willows guy to sing me a song. WAHHHHH.

So obviously on our second-year anniversary I was like, game on! Let's go. His favourite movie is Lord of the rings. Like he really loves. He's a super nerd. Sometimes when he sleeps, he will be like talking to some of the characters. Oh Frodo better not be a chio bu, sometimes the things he says to this Frodo more sweet than the things he say to me eh.

Anyway, so, I decided to give him like the BEST anniversary present. I went online and I bought the actual prop from the show from this auction know? Sibei expensive. It was like a feather quill kind of thing. That's not all. After that we went for a private dinner in the middle of Esplanade Theatre, cause at that time COVID mah, all the theatres closed mah. Where I got my friend's orchestra to play him the entire Lord of the Rings soundtrack for him. Win liao loh!

Best anniversary present right? Wrong. This dog the next day gave me the best present ever. We got on a private speedboat and went to Lazarus Island - the whole island was empty and there was like this damn pretty little shack with flowers and a private masseuse. We got spa treatment then drank Margaritas and just relaxed on the beach until the sun set. And then at night, he got Benjamin Kheng again eh, from the Sam Willows to perform a song for me again eh. LIVE IN THE FLESH EH!!! After his performance, there were fireworks that literally spelled out my initials. Oh My God! It was so amazing! Best day of my life!

Okay so this year, I really, really need to beat him okay? I have an idea. Holiday to Greece with a private yacht. And before you ask me, Eh Mui Fang, since when you got this kind of crazy money? I have been saving up for this for a year okay. I never take Grab lah. I never eat at a place with more than $5 dollar food hor. I reuse toilet paper. I am the queen of saving. So yes, I can pay for Greece and get the yacht AND pay for the 14 days stay home notice. I have it all covered. And his mind is going to be so blown!!!

Oh sorry for the super long voice note Mish. But thanks for your help. Vacation in Greece is perfect. Oh what if I bring him to New Zealand to all the places they shot Lord of The Rings! Wait, I'll save that for next year lah. Greece it is. Bye. And give Scruffy a kiss for me.

[Voice note ends. A new voice note starts]

Mui Fang:

Babeeee... we just got back from Greece yesterday. Damn romantic right? Confirm best gift ever right? Wrong. This boy told me to pack my things again. His idea was also a holiday. A long long holiday. Babeee... he got us tickets to the moon!
